Small group leader personal evaluation (extra food for thought)

Here are some questions to ask yourself to help you evaluate your leadership.

- Am I maintaining a passionate faith and living a lifestyle that is above reproach?
- Who are the students whom I've really made a strong connection?
- Who isn't showing up to my small group that should be? What kind of follow up should I do this week?
- What have I done with my students outside of the programmed small group time?
- Am I challenging students in my small group enough?
- For the few students I know really well, what's a possible next step spiritual challenge?
- Do I make the most of our small group time each week? What can I do to make it more effective?
- How many of my students are developing spiritual HABITS?
- How many of my students have committed to Friendship evangelism?
- How many of my students are serving in a ministry?
